

Logos Nutritionals Announces Launch of “Win a Year’s Supply of Health” Online Sweepstakes

Contest Celebrates 15th Anniversary of Introduction of Complete Thymic Formula, an Immune-Building Supplement

Atlanta, GA (PRWEB) March 30, 2011 -- To celebrate the 15th anniversary of the historic introduction of its Complete Thymic Formula, Logos Nutritionals is sponsoring a sweepstakes with a special Grand Prize: a full year’s supply of the immensely popular immune-boosting supplement, or $500 worth of the company’s regularly priced nutritional products.

To enter, individuals should visit the home page of the company’s website (www.LogosNutritionals.com) between April 1 and June 30, 2011, then click on the sweepstakes banner and follow the simple instructions. (No purchase is necessary; a complete list of rules is found on the sweepstakes web page.)

Logos Nutritionals established the sweepstakes to mark the creation of the Complete Thymic Formula in 1996 by nutrition pioneer Carson B. Burgstiner, M.D., father of company Founder and President John Burgstiner. This ultimate wellness formula offers the body a comprehensive and wholesome foundation of food-based nutritional support while making available factors known to nourish and balance immune function. It combines holistic nutrient support with glandular therapy for the thymus, the master gland of immunity. Thymus gland hormones play a central role in immune regulation by enabling immune cells to recognize and destroy harmful viruses and microbes.

Dr. Burgstiner’s ground breaking legacy, the Burgstiner Wellness Protocol, is the result of a distinguished 38-year medical career focused on personalized patient care and meticulous scientific research. This proprietary protocol’s six supplements are designed to work together to restore the body’s normal physiology, maintain optimal health, and promote longevity. The company’s extensive line includes natural vitamins, health and wellness packs, formulas for specific health concerns (e.g., sleep, heart health, bone loss, weight management), and sports nutrition products.

“There is more to the sweepstakes than celebrating my father’s amazing legacy or just spreading the word about our company,” explains John. “It’s truly about helping people achieve their goals for good health. Over the years, Logos Nutritionals products have transformed countless lives worldwide because we’ve empowered our customers to make better-informed choices about their diet, lifestyle and proper nutritional support.”

About Logos Nutritionals, LLC: Logos Nutritionals of Atlanta, Georgia, is a health and nutrition company offering a synergistic line of natural medicines that transforms lives by nourishing, protecting and strengthening the human body. Founder and President John M. Burgstiner is a second-generation healer, speaker, writer, researcher and gifted nutritional formulator. He continues the incredible legacy of his father, Carson B. Burgstiner, M.D., creator of the groundbreaking Burgstiner Wellness Protocol (a collection of natural medicines which detox the body and restore immune system function). The company’s nutritional products are sold at select pharmacies and natural health stores nationwide and on its website, www.LogosNutritionals.com.
